

PLEASANTVILLE AD'VTS.

G^o TO SQUIRES'

BOOT AND SHOE

EMPORIUM

On Main St., Pleasantville, Pa.

For the best assortment in the market. Custom Work
a. Specialty. Seed Bags and Valve Caps Manufactured.
J. J. SQUARS
G. J. QUIGLEY

M. G. BEERRE.

ROGER SHERMAN,

Sherman & Beebe,

ATTORNEYS AT LAW.

PLEASANTVILLE, PA.

Office on Main St., next door to P. W. COFFIN.

Special attention given to business interests of persons residing abroad, and to the examination and protection of Land Titles.

Pleasantville, Pa.

Accommodation for one hundred guests.

In connection with the Hotel will be found a first-class

Restaurant & Oyster Saloon.

Also a Billiard Room and Cigar and Tobacco Store.

FULTNER & THAWAY,

MAIN STREET,

Pleasantville, Pa.

D. M. REYNOLDS,

SURGEON DENTIST,

Office on Main street, over Fox Restaurant.

PEASANTVILLE, PA.

TEETH EXTRACTED WITHOUT PAIN.

FOX HOUSE SAMPLE ROOMS.

FRED C. HYDE, Proprietor,

PLEASANTVILLE, Pa.

Opposite the Presbyterian Church.

HILL & ARMSTRONG,

Pleasantville, Pa.

Are prepared to do TOOLS FISHING. Also, all kinds of

FISHING TOOLS furnished at the shortest notice, at J. H. Gardner's Blacksmith Shop, Pleasantville.

J. M. ARMSTRONG,

A. S. HILL,

GENERAL BLACKSMITHING.

JONATHAN LOCKE,

Pleasantville, Pa., Oct. 25, 1869.

HILL & ARMSTRONG.

Pleasantville, Pa.

GENERAL BLACKSMITHING.

J. H. GARDNER,

Pleasantville, Pa.

Opposite the Presbyterian Church.

HILL & ARMSTRONG,

Pleasantville, Pa.

GENERAL BLACKSMITHING.

J. M. ARMSTRONG,

A. S. HILL,

GENERAL BLACKSMITHING.

J. M. ARMSTRONG,

WHITE DUCK SUITS,

BROWN DUCK SUITS,

LINEN AND DUCK

SACKS,

Panama and Straw

HATS,

The Largest and Cheapest Stock in the City.

CALL AND EXAMINE THEM.

AT—

LOSEE'S.

Cor. Spring and Franklin Streets.

TITUSVILLE, PA.

Titusville Morning Herald.

Titusville, Wednesday, August 4, 1869.

New Advertisements To Day

List of Letters—J. H. Osgood, P. M.

Co-partnership—Murray & Co.

Varieties.

A regular meeting of the Common Council will be held this evening.

—J. H. Hallcock, Esq., of Erie, has been appointed Deputy United States Marshal.

—It is stated that the Danforth House at Pitt hole is to be removed to Titusville.

—Washington Engine Company No. 2 will give their first annual ball on Monday, the 10th instant.

—Wm. E. Lathey, Esq., of Forest county, is nominated for the Assembly, subject to the decision of the Republican District Convention.

—The Oil City Park Association holds its fall meeting on August 17th and 18th. Large premiums are offered, and many fast horses are expected.

—J. F. Sherry, who is well known in this city as a successful theatrical manager, will open for the season, with a first-class troupe, at Reading, on the 6th of September.

—Dr. J. A. Peters, formerly of Petroleum Center, has been appointed city editor of the New York Commercial Advertiser. The doctor has the making of a first-class journalist in him.

—At Union Mills, on Saturday, the Unknown Biscuit Club, of that place, beat the Pickwickians of Corry, in a match game, by a score of 30 to 19. The return game will be played at Corry on Saturday.

—Mr. John Bent has been appointed by Chief of Police House, Pound Master, and will take charge of all stray cattle brought to him, at his pen, at the east end of Pine street, just below Titusville House.

—The Haranguai picnic in Meadville on Monday was attended by 2,000 persons. Besides the Erie and South Erie societies there were societies in the procession from Cleveland, Meadville, Titusville, Corry and Warren.

—Property owners who have been officially notified to construct sidewalks, should bear in mind that the limitation has expired, and unless the terms of the ordinance are complied with the Street Commissioner is authorized to construct the walks and collect the cost thereof.

—The Emancipation Bill of the colored people on Monday evening was a great success. The company was very select, the toilets magnificent, and for style and figure it was agreed by the spectators that the colored ladies of Titusville eclipse those of Saratoga and Long Branch.

—There is constantly increasing complaint of cattle and swine roaming about the streets and doing great damage to private property. We believe there is a city pound on Pine street, under charge of the Chief of Police, and vagrant and predatory cattle should be driven there and locked up, subject to the conditions provided by ordinance.

A NEW Telegraph Cable.

A London telegram of yesterday announces that a company is organizing to lay a telegraph cable from Scotland, by way of Orkney and Faroe Islands, to Quebec. When completed, the whole line will probably be purchased by the Post Office Department.

These cable telegraph lines must be a good thing, if capitalists are so eager to invest in them. For "Faroe," we should read "Faroe." The Orkney Islands lie north of Scotland, and are partly inhabited and cultivated, the people living more by hunting for wild birds and eggs and fishing, than by the pursuits of agriculture. It is said they ship over 100,000 lobsters annually to the London market.

The Faroe Islands are a group in the North Atlantic, belonging to Denmark. The sea running between them forms bays with good anchorages. The opal is the chief mineral found there, and a good trade is carried on in the feathers of wild fowl.

If the line is built as contemplated, its terminus will be on British ground, and if it passes into the hands of the Post Office Department it will then be a strictly Government affair, and a new one between the British crown and its North American colonies.

Facts and Figures.

Secretary Boutwell's last financial exhibit is cheerful reading for Democratic croakers. It would be a good campaign document to circulate among the people on the eve of the State elections.

The decrease in the state debt during the past month is $7,435,744.29, making the total decrease, since Grant became the head of the Government, $16,460,779.43. This is at the rate of over $70,000,000 a year. With the Southern States restored to harmonious relations to the General Government, and the resumption throughout that vast section of all industrial pursuits, the resources of the Government will be largely augmented, while the funding of the debt will reduce its volume in a corresponding degree.

If the Democracy want to quarrel with the Administration they must seek to start some other issue than its financial policy and issue.

THE OLD DEAD BEAT WELL, Church Row, that has only been pumping two or three barrels a day for the last few months, and was supposed to be past remunerating, was searched with Beach's new Crevier dredger on the 2d inst., and torpedoed according to the record given—and is now pumping twenty-five barrels per day.

To keep the system cool, refreshed and vigorous, try the celebrated Vick and Koenigstein water, on draught at White & Co.'s drug store.

The Tennessee Election.

The country will look with interest to the result of the State election to be held in Tennessee to-morrow. The contest between Stokes and Senter, has many points of resemblance to that which prevailed in Virginia between Wells and Walker, and the victory will probably rest with the liberal side in Tennessee, as it did in the Old Dominion. Both Stokes and Senter are Republicans, but the latter will receive Democratic support, because he is in favor of a general amnesty and political enfranchisement to the late rebels, while Stokes would withhold the ballot from them—not only as a punishment, but as a security for their future good conduct. It would seem a little singular that such an extremist as Brownlow should champion the cause of Senter, who is also the candidate of Johnson, but politics makes strange bedfellows. However, the Parsons disclaims that he has either condoned Johnson's offences, or that he favors his political resurrection. The Administration is claimed as friendly to either candidate, and we may, therefore, infer that at least it is neutral as relates to Executive influence and patronage. Of course, if Senter carries the day, and we are prepared for such a result, his election will be heralded as a Democratic triumph. But he certainly does not stand on a Democratic platform—such an one Packer stands on in this State, or Rosecrans in Ohio. We can find little to criticize in such Democracy as can be deduced from his late address. A few extracts will show what he thinks of the political issues of the day, and on which side he stands of those questions. Addressing his fellow-citizens he said:

I am, by the action of many members of the Republican party in every portion of the State—who represented, as I believe, a large majority of the Republican party in the State—a candidate for Governor, at the next August election. In asking the suffrage of my fellow-citizens, I deem it proper to call myself frankly state to them the position which I entertain as an individual, on which I stand as a candidate, and which shall govern me, if elected.

FRANCHISE.

The question which most interests the people of Tennessee at the present time, and which itself, is, perhaps, more pressing and important than any other, is the elective franchise. On this subject I am free to say that, in my judgment, the time has come, and is now, when the limitations and disabilities which have found their way into our state constitution as the result of the war should be abolished and removed, and the privilege of the elective franchise restored and extended to all men of African descent.

DEMOCRATIC DOCTORS DISAGREE.

The Cleveland Herald thus graphically conveys the conflict between the platforms of the Pennsylvania and Ohio Democrats. The close similarity of doctrine and duty in all the Republican platforms should be remembered in this connection:

We have seen the Pennsylvania Democracy vigorously denounce "slavery," while the Ohio Democracy silently resolve to spell it hereafter with one "g," and in the meantime have nothing to say against "our African brother."

The Pennsylvania Democracy "gratefully remembers the services rendered and pledges the party to faithfully execute the guarantees given in their favor." Remembering the Democratic legislation disfranchising the maimed veterans of the war, and the Democratic vote against sailors' and sailors' orphan asylums, the Ohio Democracy preserved a discreet silence on this topic, only expressing their gratitude by setting up a soldier candidate to be knocked over by the soldiers, who are not easily gulled into forswearing their patriotic feelings and forgiving their past sins.

The Pennsylvania Democracy want a reform in the fiscal administration of Federal and State affairs. As the immediate legislation of the recent Legislature is rather a tender spot, the Ohio Democrat may quietly ignore the subject.

The Pennsylvania Democracy demand equal rights of education for colored and white children, at home and abroad. The Ohio Democracy are a little in doubt as to what constitutes a citizen, and whilst willing to have the citizen abroad protected, are not quite about protecting citizens at home should they be half colored.

The Pennsylvania Democracy demand a reform of the present internal revenue laws. On the other hand, the Ohio Democracy are silent. They know it would be impossible to get up a party before civil war had been fully restored, and before the State had been fully organized and restored, and before the present distribution of the majority of the late rebellious people had become apparent. These reasons, simply sufficient then, cannot be urged now, when the disposition and purpose of the general government towards them has not been made known—before civil war had been fully restored, and before the State had been fully organized and restored, and before the present distribution of the majority of the late rebellious people had become apparent. These reasons, simply sufficient then, cannot be urged now, when the disposition and purpose of the general government towards them has not been made known—before civil war had been fully restored, and before the State had been fully organized and restored, and before the present distribution of the majority of the late rebellious people had become apparent.

The Pennsylvania Democracy demand a reform of the present internal revenue laws. On the other hand, the Ohio Democracy are silent. They know it would be impossible to get up a party before civil war had been fully restored, and before the State had been fully organized and restored, and before the present distribution of the majority of the late rebellious people had become apparent.

The Pennsylvania Democracy demand a reform of the present internal revenue laws. On the other hand, the Ohio Democracy are silent. They know it would be impossible to get up a party before civil war had been fully restored, and before the State had been fully organized and restored, and before the present distribution of the majority of the late rebellious people had become apparent.

The Pennsylvania Democracy demand a reform of the present internal revenue laws. On the other hand, the Ohio Democracy are silent. They know it would be impossible to get up a party before civil war had been fully restored, and before the State had been fully organized and restored, and before the present distribution of the majority of the late rebellious people had become apparent.

The Pennsylvania Democracy demand a reform of the present internal revenue laws. On the other hand, the Ohio Democracy are silent. They know it would be impossible to get up a party before civil war had been fully restored, and before the State had been fully organized and restored, and before the present distribution of the majority of the late rebellious people had become apparent.

The Pennsylvania Democracy demand a reform of the present internal revenue laws. On the other hand, the Ohio Democracy are silent. They know it would be impossible to get up a party before civil war had been fully restored, and before the State had been fully organized and restored, and before the present distribution of the majority of the late rebellious people had become apparent.

The Pennsylvania Democracy demand a reform of the present internal revenue laws. On the other hand, the Ohio Democracy are silent. They know it would be impossible to get up a party before civil war had been fully restored, and before the State had been fully organized and restored, and before the present distribution of the majority of the late rebellious people had become apparent.

The Pennsylvania Democracy demand a reform of the present internal revenue laws. On the other hand, the Ohio Democracy are silent. They know it would be impossible to get up a party before civil war had been fully restored, and before the State had been fully organized and restored, and before the present distribution of the majority of the late rebellious people had become apparent.

The Pennsylvania Democracy demand a reform of the present internal revenue laws. On the other hand, the Ohio Democracy are silent. They know it would be impossible to get up a party before civil war had been fully restored, and before the State had been fully organized and restored, and before the present distribution of the majority of the late rebellious people had become apparent.

The Pennsylvania Democracy demand a reform of the present internal revenue laws. On the other hand, the Ohio Democracy are silent. They know it would be impossible to get up a party before civil war had been fully restored, and before the State had been fully organized and restored, and before the present distribution of the majority of the late rebellious people had become apparent.

The Pennsylvania Democracy demand a reform of the present internal revenue laws. On the other hand, the Ohio Democracy are silent. They know it would be impossible to get up a party before civil war had been fully restored, and before the State had been fully organized and restored, and before the present distribution of the majority of the late rebellious people had become apparent.

The Pennsylvania Democracy demand a reform of the present internal revenue laws. On the other hand, the Ohio Democracy are silent. They know it would be impossible to get up a party before civil war had been fully restored, and before the State had been fully organized and restored, and before the present distribution of the majority of the late rebellious people had become apparent.

The Pennsylvania Democracy demand a reform of the present internal revenue laws. On the other hand, the Ohio Democracy are silent. They know it would be impossible to get up a party before civil war had been fully restored, and before the State had been fully organized and restored, and before the present distribution of the majority of the late rebellious people had become apparent.

The Pennsylvania Democracy demand a reform of the present internal revenue laws. On the other hand, the Ohio Democracy are silent. They know it would be impossible to get up a party before civil war had been fully restored, and before the State had been fully organized and restored, and before the present distribution of the majority of the late rebellious people had become apparent.

The Pennsylvania Democracy demand a reform of the present internal revenue laws. On the other hand, the Ohio Democracy are silent. They know it would be impossible to get up a party before civil war had been fully restored, and before the State had been fully organized and restored, and before the present distribution of the majority of the late rebellious people had become apparent.

The Pennsylvania Democracy demand a reform of the present internal revenue laws. On the other hand, the Ohio Democracy are silent. They know it would be impossible to get up a party before civil war had been fully restored, and before the State had been fully organized and restored, and before the present distribution of the majority of the late rebellious people had become apparent.

The Pennsylvania Democracy demand a reform of the present internal revenue laws. On the other hand, the Ohio Democracy are silent. They know it would be impossible to get up a party before civil war had been fully restored, and before the State had been fully organized and restored, and before the present distribution of the majority of the late rebellious people had become apparent.

The Pennsylvania Democracy demand a reform of the present internal revenue laws. On the other hand, the Ohio Democracy are silent. They know it would be impossible to get up a party before civil war had been fully restored, and before the State had been fully organized and restored, and before the present distribution of the majority of the late rebellious people had become apparent.

The Pennsylvania Democracy demand a reform of the present internal revenue laws. On the other hand, the Ohio Democracy are silent. They know it would be impossible to get up a party before civil war had been fully restored, and before the State had been fully organized and restored, and before the present distribution of the majority of the late rebellious people had become apparent.

The Pennsylvania Democracy demand a reform of the present internal revenue laws. On the other hand, the Ohio Democracy are silent. They know it would be impossible to get up a party before civil war had been fully restored, and before the State had been fully organized and restored, and before the present distribution of the majority of the late rebellious people had become apparent.

The Pennsylvania Democracy demand a reform of the present internal revenue laws. On the other hand, the Ohio Democracy are silent. They know it would be impossible to get up a party before civil war had been fully restored, and before the State had been fully organized and restored, and before the present distribution of the majority of the late rebellious people had become apparent.

The Pennsylvania Democracy demand a reform of the present internal revenue laws. On the other hand, the Ohio Democracy are silent. They know it would be impossible to get up a party before civil war had been fully restored, and before the State had been fully organized and restored, and before the present distribution of the majority of the late rebellious people had become apparent.

The Pennsylvania Democracy demand a reform of the present internal revenue laws. On the other hand, the Ohio Democracy are silent. They know it would be impossible to get up a party before civil war had been fully restored, and before the State had been fully organized and restored, and before the present distribution of the majority of the late rebellious people had become apparent.

The Pennsylvania Democracy demand a reform of the present internal revenue laws. On the other hand, the Ohio Democracy are silent. They know it would be impossible to get up a party before civil war had been fully restored, and before the State had been fully organized and restored, and before the present distribution of the majority of the late rebellious people had become apparent.

The Pennsylvania Democracy demand a reform of the present internal revenue laws. On the other hand, the Ohio Democracy are silent. They know it would be impossible to get up a party before civil war had been fully restored, and before the State had been fully organized and restored, and before the present distribution of the majority of the late rebellious people had become apparent.

The Pennsylvania Democracy demand a reform of the present internal revenue laws. On the other hand, the Ohio Democracy are silent. They know it would be impossible to get up a party before civil war had been fully restored, and before the State had been fully organized and restored, and before the present distribution of the majority of the late rebellious people had become apparent.

The Pennsylvania Democracy demand a reform of the present internal revenue laws. On the other hand, the Ohio Democracy are silent. They know it would be impossible to get up a party before civil war had been fully restored, and before the State had been fully organized and restored, and before the present distribution of the majority of the late rebellious people had become apparent.

The Pennsylvania Democracy demand a reform of the present internal revenue laws. On the other hand, the Ohio Democracy are silent. They know it would be impossible to get up a party before civil war had been fully restored, and before the State had been fully organized and restored, and before the present distribution of the majority of the late rebellious people had become apparent.

The Pennsylvania Democracy demand a reform of the present internal revenue laws. On the other hand, the Ohio Democracy are silent. They know it would be impossible to get up a party before civil war had been fully restored, and before the State had been fully organized and restored, and before the present distribution of the majority of the late rebellious people had become apparent.

The Pennsylvania Democracy demand a reform of the present internal revenue laws. On the other hand, the Ohio Democracy are silent. They know it would be impossible to get up a party before civil war had been fully restored, and before the State had been fully organized and restored, and before the present distribution of the majority of the late rebellious people had become apparent.

The Pennsylvania Democracy demand a reform of the present internal revenue laws. On the other hand, the Ohio Democracy are silent. They know it would be impossible to get up a party before civil war had been fully restored, and before the State had been fully organized and restored, and before the present distribution of the majority of the late rebellious people had become apparent.

The Pennsylvania Democracy demand a reform of the present internal revenue laws. On the other hand, the Ohio Democracy are silent. They know it would be impossible to get up a party before civil war had been fully restored, and before the State had been fully organized and restored, and before the present distribution of the majority of the late rebellious people had become apparent.

The Pennsylvania Democracy demand a reform of the present internal revenue laws. On the other hand, the Ohio Democracy are silent. They know it would be impossible to get up a party before civil war had been fully restored, and before the State had been fully organized and restored, and before the present distribution of the majority of the late rebellious people had become apparent.

The Pennsylvania Democracy demand a reform of the present internal revenue laws. On the other hand, the Ohio Democracy are silent. They know it would be impossible to get up a party before civil war had been fully restored, and before the State had been fully organized and restored, and before the present distribution of the majority of the late rebellious people had become apparent.

The Pennsylvania Democracy demand a reform of the present internal revenue laws. On the other hand, the Ohio Democracy are silent. They know it would be impossible to get up a party before civil war had been fully restored, and before the State had been fully organized and restored, and before the present distribution of the majority of the late rebellious people had become apparent.

The Pennsylvania Democracy demand a reform of the present internal revenue laws. On the other hand, the Ohio Democracy are silent. They know it would be impossible to get up a party before civil war had been fully restored, and before the State had been fully organized and restored, and before the present distribution of the majority of the late rebellious people had become apparent.

The Pennsylvania Democracy demand a reform of the present internal revenue laws. On the other hand, the Ohio Democracy are silent. They know it would be impossible to get up a party before civil war had been fully restored, and before the State had been fully organized and restored, and before the present distribution of the majority of the late rebellious people had become apparent.

The Pennsylvania Democracy demand a reform of the present internal revenue laws. On the other hand, the Ohio Democracy are silent. They know it would be impossible to get up a party before civil war had been fully restored, and before the State had been fully organized and restored, and before the present distribution of the majority of the late rebellious people had become apparent.

The Pennsylvania Democracy demand a reform of the present internal revenue laws. On the other hand, the Ohio Democracy are silent.

Titusville Morning Herald.

A. HORN.

The will of Charles Francis of Matick, Mass., who died last Saturday, left the bulk of his property amounting to $12,000, to the town of Cambridge, the sum to be used for the erection of a school, to be completed by the year 1870. The will, however, was approved, and the spending parties have taken out an appeal.

A western editor, who has started a paper at Belle City, announces his purpose then "to follow in the footsteps of a paper; name, Capital Journal, and principles, Democratic to the last, advocating a living office, on Main street, opposite the Hotel, opposite an old cotton mill in the road, and will run it if need be."

There is a tree in Boston, every limb of which is lashed by small green twigs, and the spots on their backs. They seem to be great enemies to the common house flies, thousands of which die dead around the tree.

The Illinois and Alton Railroad Company have agreed to carry the children of the Soldiers' Orphan's Home, at Normal, Ill., over the railroads of the school year, and return them, free of charge, at the opening of the next term.

The Illinois Central Railroad Company, during the year ending May last, purchased 24,430 tons of coal at La Salle, Ill.

The new law protecting the creeping fern, which grows so plentifully on the Elkhorn Windor hill, in the city, will only add to its value, is not much regarded by the inhabitants of that place, who are quite willing that the public should gather all they wish.

A machine driven by steam has recently been invented in Lynn, Mass., which rounds, rounds, channels and stamps the sole of a shoe almost at the same instant, being operated by a small lever. One man, with this machine, can perform the work of three without.

Newland Perkins, of Troy, Vt., ninety three years old, spread a acre of stout grass in three years, and raked and tilled up an hill five times, the distance from his door to his house.

A party of young women, of Holyoke, Mass., chartered the "Katherine," the other day, and took a moonlight excursion up the river no men being allowed on the boat except its officers.

Increase Robinson, a native of Bridgewater, Massachusetts, and prominently connected with the Bridgewater Iron Manufacturing Company for the past twenty years and who was also the chief director of the Weymouth Iron Company from its first organization, died at his residence in Boston a few days since, aged 80 years.

At Caruso, Illinois, a fortnight ago, two or three little girls were amusing themselves in the shade of a locomotive which was proceeding at a slow rate. A boy, named Scott, about 12 years old, in attempting to cross immediately in front, stumbled and fell across the track. In an instant the engine passed over her body, cutting her in two.

The demand for iron ore on Lake Superior is very great, and the shipments are heavy. All the mines are working to their utmost capacity.

The city of Ottawa, Illinois, has voted a loan of $100,000 for constructing dams across the Illinois and Fox Rivers.

Cole's dike at Hartford, Ct., which was badly washed by this year's flood in the Connecticut, is to be repaired by the city at an expense of $20,000.

The McLean county jail, in Illinois, has two inmates only. Last year at this time there were ten or twelve awaiting trial, and two years ago nearly twenty.

A basking shark, forty feet in length, narrowly escaped capture in the Narrows of Lubec, Me., a few days ago.

One hundred newspapers are received every week at the National Asylum for Disabled Soldiers at Augusta, Maine, furnished gratuitously by the publishers.

Over one hundred wagons passed through Marion Hill, one day last week bound for Missouri to gather honey.

MISCELLANEOUS.

PHOTOGRAPHIC.

PICTURES IN OIL PAINT & WATER COLOR, ANY SIZE

Cards, Gems, Ferotypes, &c.

Views taken any place in the OIL REGION.

Orders will receive prompt attention sent by mail or left at the Photographic Room of C. G. Goetzius, corner Franklin and Spring streets, Titusville, Pa.

— C. GOETZIUS

WANTED,

Well Operators and Boreers.

The undersigned and associates control 15 purchase and otherwise, several thousand acres of

THE BEST OIL LANDS

in Venango County, Pa. They desire to let a few leases on each farm on VERY FAVORABLE TERMS to men who are known to be thoroughly competent in every way.

Most of the lands are situated on the OIL BELT from

PETROLEUM CENTRE

to Charley Run, thence on the same line to Scrub Gravel Run, and also some other farms in the New Creek Oil Region.

All of the above property has been purchased by the present owners, who have had much experience in the business, and regardless of cost, they secured the same at the lowest price.

THE BEST BORED PROPERTY

Parties intending to lease or buy oil well do well to apply immediately to some one of the undersigned, who has authority to give leases.

G. D. ANGELL,
Robert Gram, Venango County, Pa.
MILES S. SAGE,
Franklin, Pa.
C. P. WHITNEY,
Oil City, Pa.
F. PRESTON,
56 Pine Street, New York

ASPERBERIES,

Currants and all kinds of fruit in its season, at

HARDY'S NEW STORE

IMPORTANT TO

OIL OPERATORS.

REARING IRON WORKS

TUBING

— AND —

CASING

The undersigned offers to the public, the unequalled

Lap Weld Tubing

— AND —

CASING

Of this manufacture. It is thoroughly

TESTED,

At the Manufactory before sale, and is of superior quality and finish.

JAMES B. GREGGIE,
Oil City, Pa.

PEABODY,

Bent and Steel Wheel Factory. All varieties of wheels, hubs, bars, beams, steel drawings and wire. Peabody, Pa. (Opposite Post-office)

M. E. SCHAUER,

STEEL WHEELS,

STEEL WHEELS,</p